

Sustaining Lifelong Global Connections for Knowledge

American Friends of AvH was established in 1999 as the US nonprofit professional partner of the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation (AvH), and the almost 6,000 members of the US Humboldt alumni network. We are part of a worldwide network of 30,000 alumni of AvH programs, including 61 Nobel Laureates and two former US secretaries of energy.

We execute our mission through shared programs in recruitment and alumni stewardship, and through programs paired with those of the AvH, and other services, publications, and fundraising.

American Friends of the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation is a transatlantic bridge builder and home of the US Humboldt alumni network. We promote networking, exchange, and collaboration among researchers and professionals in many disciplines and fields and leverage their expertise to address today's most critical issues.
